Runway at John C. Tune Airport to Close Temporarily for Rehabilitation

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — The runway at John C. Tune Airport (JWN) will be closed to complete painting after being recently repaved. The runway will be closed from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday, Aug. 25, through Wednesday, Aug. 27. No takeoffs or landings will be permitted during the closure periods. The airport and many on-site operations, such as helicopter companies, will remain open during the runway closure.

Located in West Nashville in the Cockrill Bend area, JWN is one of the busiest general aviation airports in Tennessee. Owned and managed by the Metropolitan Nashville Airport Authority, JWN serves the needs of regional corporate and private aircraft owners and operators. The airport is named in honor of the late John C. Tune — a Nashville attorney, civic leader, long-time aviation enthusiast and one of the principal developers of the modern aviation authority concept.
